

Report of the Chief Constable to the Chair and Members of the Professional Standards Panel
29th July 2010

Executive & Presenting Officer: Mr Derek Bonnard, Deputy Chief Constable

Status: For information

Deliberate Damage Statistics

1 Purpose

- 1.1 To inform Members of the cost to the Force of deliberate damage by way of forced entry into premises for the period 1st April to 30th June 2010.
- 1.2 To inform Members of the operational results achieved through such forced entry and other premises searches.

2 Recommendations

- 2.1 To note the content of the report.
- 2.2 To note that the operational benefits accruing to the Force in terms of property, drugs and cash seized, outweigh the cost of the damage claims.

3 Reasons

- 3.1 Police Officers are lawfully entitled to forcibly enter private premises for a number of reasons. The main reasons are:
 - to effect an arrest
 - to conduct a premises search subsequent to an arrest
 - to execute a warrant or
 - to save life or property.
- 3.2 It is important that the exercise of these powers is subject to scrutiny.

4. Implications

4.1 Finance

The figures show that during the quarter, the Force has paid out £14,971 in compensation for acts of deliberate damage. This compares to £8,447 paid out in the same period in the previous year. Whilst 2410 searches were conducted, only 243 (10.1%) resulted in deliberate damage, compared to 8.92% in the previous year. The value of property, cash and drugs seized totals £412,282, and this compares to £940,772 seized during the same period in 2009.

4.2 Diversity & Equal Opportunities

There are no diversity or equal opportunities implications identified by the data contained in this report.

4.3 Human Rights Act

There are no Human Rights Act implications arising from this report.

4.4 Sustainability

There are no sustainability implications arising from this report.

4.5 Risk

There are no risk implications arising from this report.

5. Conclusions

5.1 The report confirms that the value of property, cash and drugs recovered continues to exceed the cost of any damage caused by forced entry.
